

GALLEY

The Galley will help make food preparation easy. Along the walls are shelves of protein pills, drums containing dehydrated beverages, food bins for surplus stock and left-overs, and computers for menu planning or specialty food preparation.

Most cooked foods will be cooked in the highly versatile Portable Cook Unit. The galley has two of these units which are capable of everything from frying an egg to turning potatoes into potato chips.

A Coffee Pot is also a standard part of the galley. It can brew coffee from beans grown in the hydroponic garden, or can heat instant coffee from dehydrated coffee pills.

The galley table has six control panels used for selections from the electronic pantry. Dishes, glasses, and tableware, along with Concentrated-Hyper-Protein and Food Concentrates will be delivered right to the table on a conveyor belt.
